CARROLL,

—A sufficient amount of snow fell on Monday night and Tuesday to make very fine sleighing, but the atmosphere has succeeded in getting too cold to make it enjoyable. Thermometer is ten degrees below zero this morning.

-The Elmore Courier makes the honest confession that ten months ago none engaged in the office knew anything about the printing business, and thanks their patrons for their tudulgence. There is hope for improvement in their 'cases' The egotism of the Satind craft will never allow them to make any such confession.

Wednesday evening, December 28, by the Choir of the Presbyterian Church, under the superingent that a man is justifiable in beating another if he can. In what kind of a school is such doctrine tanght? Imagine yourself in a community where every man is puzzing his brain over how he may 'beat' his fellow man out of a few do'lars.

—The Sentinel has become alarmed obout our remaining in a state of single bleasedness. There are probably many reasons why persons remain single, which may be or may not be of much importance to themselves, but which is certainly of less importance to the public. We will state, however, that one of the chief causes of our position is very probably similar to that which Evens himself once occupied. We are safting for some one who 'loves not wisely, but too well, to purchase a costly wedding apparef for our intended.

[Written for the Perrysburg Journal.] WAIT.

"Wait," also said, and turning sadly To the bright and shining west,
Where the golden clouds of evening
In their glory seemed to rest,
Gased with eyes that saw no beauty,
For her soul was wrapped in gloon;
Earth was dark to her, but flowers
Blussemed all about the tomb.

"Wait," she said, until the sorrow
Which o'erclouds my life is yours,
'Till the shadows all the sunshine
In your bright blue sky obscures.
Then you will not say so calmly,
Cherished hopes in Heaven dwell,
Trust in Him who loves you,
Fir He doeth all things well.

All the calmness I had borrowed And the pain of years grew strenger
I had prayed that it was dead,
And I spoke in trembling accents, Calen had been my tones of late,
Oh! my friends, these words rem mber, Tell me not for wee to wait.

It has darkened your bright blue, Yet I see the clouds are breaking, There is joy in store for you. But, my friend, a moment only Let me lay this vall aside, In my heart's deserted chambers Young and joyous hopes have died,

Once a form as bright and manly As the one whose love you hold, Held the key that locked this sanctur And it sained my ido's honor, Blotted out his honest name.

For they mocked him, called him coward, For they mocked him, called him co By the wine-cup he was led, And the blow, so well directed, Was returned, and he lay dead. For they struck him on the temple, And the life light all was gime, Long I lay e'er scattered reason O'er my mind began to dawn.

Clouds your bright young life of late, But we all must have our darkness, Ask me not for wee to wait. TONTOGANY, December, 1870.

NEW YORK, August 15th, 1868. Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EX-TRAUT BUCHU. The component parts are, BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBERS, JUNI-PER BERRIES. are, BUCHU, LONG LEAT, CUREDS, JUNIFER BERRIES.

Modrof Preparation.—Buchu, in vacto, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is need, and a email proportion of spirit. It is more palstable than any now in use.

Buchu as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (lits active principle) leaving a dark and gintinous decoction. Mine is the solor of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made to Pharmacopea, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore ean be used in cases where fever or infammation exists. In this, you have the knowbeing of the figredients and the mode of preparation. preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with
